

On 1st of December 2018

Climate Action Day is a worldwide movement of young people who feel concerned about climate change and global injustice. Already on the last year's Climate Action Days young people from Africa, Asia and Europe have made an appointment for common engagement:

They planted trees, swapped plastic bags for cloth bags, discussed at climate concerts about renewable energies and much, much more.

United strong for climate protection!

This year, the 24th UN Climate Change Conference (COP 24) will take place in Katowice, Poland. Show with your individual actions that a change is possible and ask politicians to take action. According to the motto "Active on the Spot – globally networked!" young people from all over the world participate in the Climate Action Day on the 1st of December.

Get climate-active! Be it with small or big actions and get connected with other young activists on www.facebook.com/climateactionday.

Get informed on www.climateactionday.de

Please ask our preparation team, if you need any help:

Europe: Johanna Schäfer and Hannah Fischer, info@climateactionday.org

Asia: Sophia Anggraita, Anggraita-S@vemission.org

Africa: Rev. Dr. Kahongya Kambale, Kahongya-K@vemission.org